

CURRICULUM VITAE

NAME: Akira Nakagiri, Ph.D

AGE: 61 years (born on 10 January, 1957)

EMPLOYED BY: Tottori University

4-101, Koyama-cho, Minami, Tottori, 690-8553, Japan

POSITION HELD: Professor, Director of Fungus/Mushroom Resource and Research
Center, Faculty of Agriculture, Tottori University

EDUCATION: University – Bachelor of Science, College of Biological Sciences,
University of Tsukuba, 1979.

Major subjects: Mycology

Ph. D– Graduate School of Biological Sciences, University of Tsukuba, 1984. Ph. D in Science (Mycology)

MAJOR RESEARCH FIELDS: Taxonomy and ecology of marine and freshwater fungi,
Preservation of fungal cultures

POSITIONS HELD (SINCE GRADUATION)

1984–1987: Research Assistant, Institute of Biological
Sciences, University of Tsukuba

1987–1988: Research Associate, Institute of Biological
Sciences, University of Tsukuba

1988–2002: Researcher; Senior Researcher; Senior Research
Head, Institute for Fermentation, Osaka (IFO)

2002–2010: Research Staff, Resource Collection Division,
Department of Biotechnology,
Biological Resource Center (NBRC) National Institute of Technology and Evaluation (NITE)

2010–2011: Director, Biotechnology Division, Tohoku Regional Office, NITE

2011–present: Fungus/Mushroom Resource and Research
Center, Faculty of Agriculture, Tottori University

SERVICES for SOCIETIES

1985–1986, 1997–1998:

Secretary of the Mycological Society of Japan (MSJ)

1991–1994, 1997–Present:

Editors of MSJ

1998–2002: Executive Officer of the International Mycological
Association

1999–2001, 2013–2018: Councilors of MSJ

2001–2003, 2005–2008, 2011–2012: Trustee of MSJ

2005–2007: Editor-in-Chief of MSJ (Mycoscience)

2015–2016: Trustee of Japan Society for Microbial Resources
and Systematics (JSMRS)

2017–Present: President of JSMRS